ROUBLE WITH WATER CO.

ttsburg Seems to Resent Certain Actions of Co. Furnish ng Water.

n view of the fact that many Monesseople are being imposed upon by Monessen Water Co., in an attempt orce restrictions on the consumers in ct violation of its contract with the , we reproduce an article from the sburg Gazette which may have some ring on the local condition.

The South Side is looking to Mayor hrie and the city councils to furnish f from the alleged oppression of the ongahela Water company. Mayor hrie is waiting for an opinion from nior Rodgers as to the proper method ursue, and tonight in council will be rted a resolution from the finance mittee directing the mayor to notify ompany it must keep its agreement the city or suffer the penalty of ture of the contract.

The resolution pending in councils is radical enough for the South Side umers They say the Monongahela r company has been violating the ract for years, and instead of re ng, has gone to the extreme this of raising its rates when the city re d its rates although the company e a contract that its rates in every should not exceed the rates of the little item which appeared in our rs yesterday was very misleading llows "Connelsville is to have a fire department Monessen has a department." The item should read "Monessen has a paid street rtment" but the word street was t It was far from our intentions ow the slightest reflection on the essen Volunteer Fire department, as to proud of the work of that organiza since its formation a little more than year ago We have always stood e boys in their efforts to protect the erty holders of this city and we hope able to continue to do so. When are right we stand ready at all to defend them.

The city since 1903 has been giving its umers the option of paying meter but the company has refused to this option to its consumers to m it meant a huge saving of money. suggestion is made that the city cil forthwith declare the contract the Monongahela Water company ted by the action of the company in asing its rates and refusing to give sumers meter service An amend t to the resolution to revoke the con at once by proper legal proceedings be proposed in councils tonight by h Side members"

STOLE MARCH ON PARENTS.

Young Man of this City and Young Girl of Braddock, Elope to Youngstown and are Married.

J. W. Banas, the well known contracting painter of this city and Miss Elizebeth Reabe of Braddock, were married this morning at Youngstown, Ohio, having eloped from the home of the girl's parents last evening. The young woman's father opposed the match, but their happiness was not to be so easily ruined and preparations for the elopement were carefully made. The success which attended their plans is shown from the result.

Mr. Banas left town yesterday on the 1.14 train, telling no one of his intentions and not even his closest friend suspected his object. He joined the young lady in Braddock last evening, from where they at once left for Youngstown Arriving there this morning the nuptial knot was at once tied, after which a message was sent to the parents of both apprising them of the marriage.

After a short honeymoon the young couple will return to Monessen where they will make their home. The many friends of both join in wishing them all possible happiness for the future

MONESSEN'S financial problem is one that would stagger a commencement orator. Council is in a hole but the school board seems to be in the mire.

"SOUPS and sandwitches 1 cent each" seems to be the watchword at the local saloons. Competition is the life of trade you know and good digestion must be the life of soup.

THE Los Angeles newspapers have a big fight on their hands in order to defend their sister city, San Francisco. Eastern people out there write home to friends how horrible the disaster was. The Eastern friend gives the letter to the editor and he publishes it. The Los Angeles newspaper reads the account in the exchange and forthwith calls the person a liar and claims the harrowing description is only told in order to stop the tourists from going west.

Pirating Foley's Honey and Tar

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds.

Do You Want an Investment in a Real Gold Mine?

Munhall Tonopah is not a get-rich-quick proposition that may pan out if you live long enough.

It is a producing gold mine, consisting of five claims, or 100 acres in the richest gold mining district of Tonopah, Nevada.

Most of the stock is owned by United States Steel Corporation men, including C. M. Schwab, former President of the Steel Corporation.

These men have faith in Munhall-Tonopah. They have put their own money in it. They never have been identified with a failure. They generally know a proposition before they invest.

They investigated this one and are convinced that it is good.

They found that shaft 258 feet deep had been sunk—a double compartment, finely timbered shaft, and that in this, three well defined ledges had been cut—that the ore taken from these ledges assayed from $10 to $12 a ton.

They organized the company with a capital of $1,000,000 00 divided into 1,000,000 shares, par value $1 each.

They have ordered an up-to-date steam hoist and complete plant for getting out the ore—a plant capable of sinking shafts to a depth of 1800 feet. The plant and outfit will be on the ground May 1.

Everything will be in readiness for operation in a very short time.

More money is now needed to continue the operations, and a very LIMITED AMOUNT of stock is offered at 25c THE SHARE. When this stock is sold no more will be offered. Ore is now being taken out and there is practically no doubt that when shipments begin, the mine will be one of the best payers in Tonopah. It OUGHT to be every bit as valuable as Tonopah Extension.

Experts have found that the veins tapped now are continuations of the veins of the celebrated Mizpah Mines, the ores of which assay from $16 to $267 a ton.

We invite close investigation. The men who have put their money in this mine expect to make a great deal of money out of it. They are not making extravagant promises, or guaranteeing big dividends. The prospect looks might good. If you want to take a chance with them the opportunity is yours—But you'll have to speak quickly—There's might little stock still to be sold.

The officers and directors of Munhall-Tonopah are S. S. Wales, Pres., G. W. J. Brown, Treas., J. H. Bowman, Secy., Rees James, John Lawler, E. W. Lewis and W. A. Griffith. Our references are National Bank of Western Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh; First National Bank, Homestead, Pa., Monongahela Trust Company, Homestead, Pa. THE FROZEN ROSE

By M. J. PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1905, by P. C. Eastment

Marcia Gordon was sixteen years old when the Spanish-American war broke out, and a more ardent little patriot did not live in Huntersville. It was natural that she should love her country. Her father and grandfather had fought for the Union in the civil war, and on the bright April morning in 1898, when the Huntersville rifles marched away to join the balance of the regiment at the state rendezvous, her brother, scarce three years her senior, was in its ranks. Furthermore, Boyd McCarron also wore the blue and as first duty sergeant stepped off blithely at the head of the sturdy column of fours.

McCarron and Marcia had been friends and comrades all their lives. Their mutual liking was trembling on the verge of something deeper and more enduring when the declaration of war swept the young man away to the camp where the state troops were fitted for the coming campaign.

McCarron, who had been clerk in Brown's clothing store, was a fine, manly young fellow and a natural soldier. He liked the pomp and circumstance of war, the drilling, the music, the thrilling pause at "retreat," when every head was bared in reverence while the colors were slowly lowered and the band swung into "The Star Spangled Banner." He liked the stirring notes of "reveille" and the unconscious pathos of "taps," which made one think of home and of his prayers. He rejoiced that he was in this brave, gay world of tents and of it. He thought of Marcia often, with a tilting of the pulses. The air castles which he sometimes constructed were always built for two, and the cornerstone of the edifice was always "after the war."

But McCarron was destined never to see Cuba. The rifles had been at the rendezvous two months, arming, equipping and drilling for actual service. The day the regiment was to take the oath as soldiers of the United States, "to serve for two years unless sooner discharged," he received a telegram announcing that his father, a railway conductor, had been killed in a wreck.

The hour which followed was filled with keenest agony. Grief for his fa ther's death was mingled with sorrow scarcely less poignant that he must give up his place in the ranks.

His mother and himself were now absolutely alone in the world. Her health was not strong. Their little home was mortgaged. Inclination pointed one way, duty the other, and duty won. At the very hour the Huntersville rifles took the oath McCarron, though with them in spirit, stepped from the train at his home city a civilian.

A few persons understood and admired him for the course, so eloquent of moral courage, which he had adopted. Their approbation did not counterbalance the sneers of many who regarded the young man as a coward. Brown, proprietor of the store, was a sensible man. Hysteria did not pass as patriotism with him. Despite the clamoring of those who insisted that McCarron for running away from the enemy's bullets should be driven from town he gave the boy his old place.

The cloud in time passed. Saner judgment convinced most persons they were wrong in branding McCarron as a poltroon. When the company, sadly decimated, returned from Cuba after the war the soldiers had nothing but good words for the man who had been their comrade. Gradually he won back his old place in the affection and esteem of his townsmen. He had withal two comforting remembrances—his mother appreciated with a gratitude that was pitiful the depth of his sacrifice and the mortgage had been lifted from their home.

Marcia Gordon found in her erstwhile playmate a puzzle which time did not solve. The high spirited girl abhorred cowardice and could not believe that the boy who had been her companion could be base. Over and over again she convinced herself that he was straightforward, brave and manly; that he had come home because his conscience had shown him it was the only thing to do. And, while she hated herself for it, a doubt always crept into her reasoning, a doubt she could not dispel.

The love for McCarron which had been on the verge of disclosing itself to her maiden soul was arrested by the persistent distrust. It was like a rosebud—frozen as it was about to unfold in glorious bloom and fragrance. It did not decay, and it could not develop. The icy grip checked one as it prevented the other. The girl had admirers in plenty, for she was light hearted and good to look upon. Yet none made any impression, for the steadfast heart could love but once; the stem hold but a single rose.

She knew that McCarron's love was hers, hers alone, and that with him, too, there never would be any one else. They met frequently as friends, but ever in his eyes was the dumb, unconscious hope she dared not encourage; in her eyes the query he could not answer.

She sat by the window of her home one afternoon in early winter watching the first snowfall of the season. Little drifts were forming here and there on the dusty pavement. The boys of the neighborhood, radiant with health and animal spirits, welcomed the snow with wild rejoicing.

They were dancing in a circle on the tracks of the electric line. Her heart gave a little throb as McCarron appeared, striding along homeward. He seemed to enjoy breasting the wind. His head was up and his broad shoulders back.

A smile on his fine face, he stopped a moment to watch the boys at their play. The early darkness of winter, already beginning to thicken, and the shouts of joyous young America prevented sight or sound of a heavy car until it was almost upon the merry circle.

Then the boys fled in panic, all but one little lad, who slipped on the smooth wet bricks and sprawled helpless across the rail. The motorman banged the gong and twisted the brake frantically, but the momentum of the car still carried it forward at cruel speed.

With a sudden sick horror and yet with a thrill of joy, too, Marcia, straining her eyes through the gloom, saw McCarron dart from the walk into the street, saw him brush the little figure clear of the rails and then go down himself beneath the rush of the car.

She must have fainted in her chair, for the next she remembered the room was full of men and McCarron, dusty, bruised and senseless, lay on the couch beside her. Old Dr. Giddings in tones of professional cheerfulness was speaking to her father. "Unconscious just now, of course, but he's not dangerously hurt. A broken leg is the worst of his injuries. I never saw a nobler act, and I'm more than happy it isn't going to cost him his life."

The frozen rose of love in Marcia's heart had burst its icy bonds of doubt at McCarron's brave deed and bloomed in splendor on the instant. She dropped on her knees by the couch and kissed McCarron's blood stained lips.

Quickened into life by the caress, his eyelids fluttered, opened. He fixed a glance of wonder, then comprehension, on the girl. "This has given me your pity, Maury, at last," he whispered.

The feeble tones expressing so much of contentment and affection and the old dear name of childhood caused the ready tears to overflow. "Not pity, Boyd," she answered, "not pity, dear heart, but love!"

The Fur Trade.

The fur trade of North America has always been largely conducted on the principle of barter, writes Duncan MacArthur in the New England Magazine. The transactions with the Indians are carried on in a very simple manner. When a hunter brings in his collection of furs to any trading post, which he usually does twice a year, in October and March, he is taken to the trading room, where the official in charge carefully examines, classifies and values each skin, and when the whole pack is gone over he hands the Indian a number of tallies, or small pieces of wood or metal, each representing the value of a "made beaver," and the whole representing the value of the entire catch. The Indian then proceeds to the storeroom and selects such articles as he requires—blankets, capots, guns, knives, tea, tobacco, etc., in payment for which he hands back his tallies until they are all gone and his purchasing powers are exhausted. He then departs, another hunter takes his place and is dealt with in a similar manner, and so on until all the furs in possession of the whole band of Indians have passed into the hands of the trader. Formerly it was customary to give a good hunter a "dram" and some small presents in appreciation of his industry.

Great Grief and Head Shaving.

Among the ancients shaving the head was a very common mode of expressing great grief or sorrow. Sometimes it was done by the priest or some other religious functionary formally cutting off the hair, sometimes by violently plucking it out by the roots. In extreme cases among men the beard as well as the hair was either cut off or plucked out. The idea seems to have been that mourners should divest themselves of that which under ordinary circumstances was considered most beautiful, ornamental and becoming. Lucian (and he is not the only one who gives points on this queer mourning custom) says that the Egyptians expressed their intense sorrow by cutting off the hair upon the death of their god Apis and that the Syrians acted in the same manner at the death of Adonis. Olympiadorus remarks concerning Job i, 20, that the ancients among whom long hair was regarded as an ornament cut it off in times of mourning, but that those who commonly wore it short suffered it upon such occasions to grow long.

AN OLD MAN'S TRIBUTE.

An Ohio Fruit Raiser, 78 Years Old, Cured of a Terrible Case After Ten Years of Suffering.

When suffering daily torture
From backache, rheumatic pain,
Any ill of kidneys or bladder,
Turn to Doan's Kidney Pills.
A cure endorsed by thousands.
Read an old man's tribute.

Sidney Justus, fruit dealer, of Mentor, Ohio, says: "I was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills of a severe case of kidney trouble of eight or ten years' standing. I suffered the most severe backache and other pains in the region of the kidneys. These were especially severe when stooping to lift anything, and often I could hardly straighten my back. The aching was bad in the daytime, but just as bad at night, and I was always lame in the morning. I was bothered with rheumatic pains and dropsical swelling of the feet. The urinary passages were painful, and the secretions were discolored and so free that often I had to rise at night. I felt tired all day. Half a box served to relieve me, and three boxes effected a permanent cure."

SIDNEY JUSTUS.

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Justus will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

One would think the Laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Cough, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and is harmless.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial effections. Sold by C. A. Light.

Don't frown look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc. - Sold by R. W. Beck.

A liquid cold cure for children that is pleasant, harmless and effective is Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. Superior to all other cough syrups or cold remedies because it acts on the bowels. An ideal remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and all curable lung and bronchial effections in child or adult. Pleasant to take. Sold by C. A. Light.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by R. W. Beck.

The gums and resins obtained from pine trees have long been recognized as highly beneficial in the treatment of backache, kidney and bladder troubles. Pineules is the name of a new medicine, the principle ingredients of which come from the pine forests of our own native land. Sold by C. A. Light.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. Makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, and draws out the inflammation. It should be kept on hand for immediate use. - Sold by R. W. Beck.

It is not difficult to relieve blind bleeding, itching or protruding piles with MaxZan, the great pile remedy. It is put up in Rapeable tubes with nozzle, and may be introduced and applied at the seat of the trouble. Stops pain instantly. Sold by C. A. Light.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by R. W. Beck.

For bloating, belching, indigestion, etc., eat a Ring's Dyspepsia Tablet after meals. Sold by C. A. Light.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is De Witt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of these famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bedtime when you feel that the stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe. Sold by R. W. Beck.

Salve! Salve! Spread the Salve, but let it be Pine Salve, natures remedy for cuts, burns, sores, etc. Sold by C. A. Light.

Diphtheria, sore throat croup. Instant relief, permanent cure. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug tore.

For headache, constipation, etc., Dade's Little Liver Pills are the best. They cleanse and tonic the liver. Sold by C. A. Light.

ROBBERS ARE STILL BUSY

Several Homes Entered at Gibsonton Last Night, But Little Accomplished.

This vicinity seems to be overrun with a gang of highwaymen that has been a source of annoyance for a long time and which may yet commit murder, if not soon run down. For the past three or four months there have been numerous highway robberies committed and a number of houses entered. Last night came the latest developments when the home of A. M. Winnett chief clerk of the Gibsonton distillery company was entered. It was about midnight and Mr. Winnett was aroused from his slumbers by a slight noise in the room and a stranger immediately thrust a revolver in his face and demanded that he remain quite, under penalty of death. Mr. Winnett obeyed the command and soon the robber made his escape. The Stewart home was also visited but the prowler secured nothing for his services and was frightened away. Saturday night five places in Belle Vernon were entered with the result that little damage was done. At Clark Corwins place the parties carried away the small sum of 14 cents, at John Ball's seven dollars and a silver watch was the reward, at Charles Gosling's six cents and a stick pin were missing the next morning. At the home of C. F. Eggers the parties helped themselves to some bananas and orangee, and at the home of S. B. Graham a watch and a pair of shoes were stolen. Strange to say that none of the Belle Vernon people were aroused by either the entrance or disappearance of the theives and no clue can be obtained as to who the parties were.

The officers in Bella Vernon Charleroi and Monessen have been apprized of the various depredations and a special effort will be put forth to arrest all suspicious characters and put an end to this high handed and lawless practice.

WEBSTER NOTES.

D. L. Sarber was visiting at Monongahela town a part of last week.

A new baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jennings of Milesville Sunday morning. The youngster is a bouncer and Joe's smiling to beat the band.

A new shoe maker has located in town. His shop is just in back of Conroy's barber shop.

Dr. Cowan is among the rapidly increasing number of mump sufferers, it seems that next to garden making, mumps and measles are the principal attraction just now.

Another large crowd of colored baptists from Donora, were baptised in the river Sunday.

The barber shop of James Conroy which has been moved into the room with the pool parlors, presents quite a pleasing appearance, having been fitted up nicely.

Miss Mary Murphy, of Pittsburg, and Miss Nona McGarty, of New Bethlehem, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Conroy over Sunday. Miss Murphy has accepted a position in the office of the President of the United Mine Workers at Pittsburg and began her duties yesterday morning.

John Vogel Sr. and John Thomas were business visitors in Greensburg yesterday.

Word was received to-day from the McKeesport Hospital that Murray Fowler who had his left hand and the toes of his left foot amputated there last week the result of being run over by a freight train, he was attempting to board, was getting along nicely. Dr. Cowan the corperation physician, temporarily dressed his injuries before he was removed to the hospital.

Two Much Snake.

Alexandria, Va., May 12—While an Italian in a railroad camp below here was sleeping with his mouth wide open a snake entered his mouth and disappeared. The frantic man ran among his comrades unable to tell his trouble and after great agony finally strangled to death. The docter found the head of the reptile wedged against his windpipe.

MUSTN'T BUTT IN.

If Dey Do Dey'll Have to Butt Out Again With the Monroe Doctrine at Their Heels.

"Is you the editah?" By the time we had finished answering affirmatively by a nod of the head, and before we had time to see who it was that had so rudely broken in on the privacy of our sanctum other than that he was a descendent of Ham with a generously dark complexion, the honorable "pusson" who is credited with being responsible for the preceeding as well as the following, continued: "What ah wants to know am the name of dat dere law what was passed after the Revlutionary wah an what says that evrybody mosn't done go bothern other people cause if they do the'll done get the'self in trouble. The law was named aftah the man what made it and says that its "23" foh the ones with the butt in habit.

For a few moments we must admit we were badly stumped but finally as a last resort suggested the Monroe Doctrine. The effect was so startling that for a time we were in doubt as to whether the proper course had been pursued or not, but the "pusson" finally came too long enough to incoherently gasp "das it, das it."

Considering that under the circumstances we were entitled to an explanation as to the cause of this unusual show of enthusiasm, we took the risk of making inquiry and after a little hesitancy on the part of our visitor, he finally took us unreservedly into his confidence.

"It's jes dis way" he went on, "I done know dere was some kind of a law like dat, but I clear forgot th' particulars. You see its dis way. De president of our sasiety done 'formed me (I'm the secretary) that the "Hen Roost Club" of Nawth Charleroi had done declared its intentions of 'vading our territory by operating a little on the side right here in ouh town. Now knowin as ah do dat dats strictly 'gainst the principles of the Monroe Doctrine ah wants to know whether we can't stop them low down coons from comin here an make 'em stay at home."

After this lengthy example of our entertainer's oratorical ability had ended, leaving him quite breathless, we found opportunity to tell him that our sympathy was wholly with his cause and that in case those Charleroi "fellers" persisted in trampeling on the rights of the organization which he represented, we would advise that he enlist the services of Chief Woolsey, who would, we assurred him, see that himself and friends got a "square deal."

RENT PAYS FOR LAND.

Fertile Sections of the Southwest, Where Land Sells for $15 and Rents for $2 per Acre.

One of the remarkable things about Eastern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana is the fact that cleared land rents for $5 per acre cash, and can be bought for $7.50 to $15 per acre. It costs from $6 to $10 an acre to clear it. Other improvements necessary are slight and inexpensive.

The soil is rich alluvial, or made. It produces a bale of cotton per acre, worth $45 to $60. This accounts for its high rental value. Other crops, such as corn, small grains, grasses, vegetables and fruits, thrive as well.

Alfalfa yields 4 to 6 cuttings, a ton to a cutting, and brings $10 to $16 per ton.

In other sections of these states, and in Texas as well, the rolling or hill-land is especially adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Land is very cheap, $5 to $10 per acre; improved farms $10, $15 to $25 per acre.

The new White River country offers many opportunities for settlers. High, rolling, fine water—it is naturally adapted to stock and fruit raising. Can be bought as low as $3 per acre.

See this great country for yourself and pick out a location. Descriptive literature, with maps, free on request.

FINED $2 AND COSTS.

For Creating Disturbance in Jewelry Store of D. I. Seifert Saturday Night.

John Dunn, forman at the Carnegie Steel Hoop mill, was fined $2 and costs by Squire James A. Watkins this afternoon on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by D. I. Seifert, the jeweler. It seems last Saturday evening, Dunn attended the auction sale which is going on at Mr. Seifert's jewely store and purchased an exceptionally fine watch much below its actual value, but becoming dissatisfied with his purchase, he, asked for his money back in an offensive manner, claiming that he had been defrauded.

He refused to listen to reason and declared his intentions of cleaning the place out if his money was not forthcoming; several bystanders interfered in time to prevent the partial carrying out of his threat. After his money had been returned to him he is alleged to have made insulting remarks as to the manner in which the sale, which is a strictly honorable and legitimate one, was being conducted. At a hearing this afternoon he plead guilty.

H. W. Black Resigns

H. W. Black, of the local plant of the Page Woven Wire Fence Co., has resigned his position here to accept one in the general office of the company at New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Black will leave shortly for their new home. The many friends of both are sorry to see them leave.

Chatauqua Circle Entertained.

The Chatauqua circle met and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thatcher on Reed avenue last evening. Informal talks by Messers C. H. Dile, George Bose and A. L. Arner during the evening materially assisted in making the meeting a successful one.

Current topics including Railroad rates were also ably discussed.

Why Bodies Were Embalmed.

AN ORDINANCE.

To regulate the manner of keeping dogs.

Be it ordained and enacted by the borough of Monessen in council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same.

Sect. 1. That hereafter the running at large of dogs upon the streets, alleys and other public places of the borough, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance and is prohibited, unless such dogs wear a securely fitted muzzle with attached license tag approved by the chief Burgess.

Sect 2. It shall be unlawful for any bitch while in heat to run at large under any circumstances, whether licensed or not; she shall be kept securely tied by her owner or keeper, and in the event of her running on the streets or other public places, it shall be the duty of the chief of police to shoot such bitch. All dogs so shot shall be removed and buried at the expense of their owners or keeper, if they can be found, otherwise at the expense of the borough.

Sect. 3. It shall be the duty of the chief of police to impound all dogs running at large in violation of section 1 of this ordinance or in violation of any ordinance requiring all dogs to be taxed and licensed. He shall detain all such dogs until a hearing can be had before the chief Burgess for the owner or keeper of such dogs. He shall post a notice on the door of the pound of all such captures describing the animal. If, at the end of forty-eight hours, no one appears and claims such dog, or no hearing can be secured as above provided, it shall be the duty of the chief of police to put to death such dogs or to dispose of them as will carry out the purposes of all ordinances relating to dogs.

Sect. 4. Any person or persons, partnerships, association, company or corporation violating or failing to comply with the provisions of any section of this ordinance, shall on conviction pay a fine of not more than twenty five dollars in the discretion of the Chief Burgess, and in the event of failure to pay the fine imposed, together with all costs of suit, said person or persons shall be imprisoned in the borough lockup for a period not exceeding five days.

Sect. 5. All ordinances or parts thereof not consistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted in Council this 3rd day of May, one thousand nine-hundred and six (1906).

F. W. IRWIN, president.

Attest:
D. McMAHON, clerk.

Approved this 4th day of May, one thousand nine-hundred and six (1906).

Ancient Remedies For Hiccough.

The hiccough seems to be a modern and dangerous disease, but the ancients knew it and prescribed remedies that might now be tried advantageously. Galen recommended sneezing. Aetius approved of a cupping instrument, with great heat, to the breast. Alexander believed in an oxymel of squills. Alsaharavius made use of refrigerant drafts. Rhazes put his trust in calefacients, such as cumin, pepper, rue and the like in vinegar. Rogerius looked kindly on calefacient, attenuant and carminative medicines.

Not Just What He Meant.

Lloyd George was addressing a meeting in Wales, and his chairman said: "I haff to introduce you to the member of the Carnarvon boroughs. He has come here to reply to what bishop of St. Asaph said the other night about Welsh disestablishment. In my opinion, gentlemen, the bishop of St. Asaph is one of the biggest liars in creashon. But he hass his match in Lloyd George!"

Savored of the Truth.

"That's no lie," remarked the man with the newspaper.

"What's no lie?" queried the other party to the dialogue.

"This paragraph to the effect that 'wise men are more often wrong than fools are right,'" answered the other.—Chicago News.

Do you possess that joyous consciousness of strength that makes your work seem play.

Or perhaps you work seems toilsome and you grow dull and listless early in the day.

More than likely the fault is in your diet.

Monessen Brewery Beer is a food beverage. Its regular and moderate use, complementing a well chosen diet, will bring health and strength to you.

It is not a temporary exhilarant. Its food properties enter at once into building up of sound tissue and creation of normal energy.

Monessen Brewery Beer will help you to "bring all of yourself to your work."

Hygienically brewed from purest water and choicest materials at the Monessen Brewery by
